

of the weaving at the beginning and end of the rows.
03 To create the fringe tassels, cut four strands of yarn. Place the yarn over the warp threads and bring the yarn behind and around the warp on each side, then pull both ends down to create the knot. Continue adding tassels in layers. For the first layer, add three red tassels at both ends and two blue tassels in the middle. For the second layer, add three tassels in pink at both ends and two tassels in cream in the middle. Add two tassels in blue roving on top of the two cream ones – you'll only need one strand of roving for each tassel. Using the main image as a guide, trim the three layers into shape.

04 Now continue to weave up the loom in blocks of colour. Cut the yarn to 40cm (15¾") for each block of colour, this will weave approximately four lines. Weave the gold ribbon in the same way. Thread the tail of the yarn or ribbon into the back of the weaving to keep it tidy. Weave a block of cream, then a row of ribbon, then a block of red.
05 To make the fluffy middle section, weave the pink roving over varying threads, e.g. over two threads, under three, over four. Do this for a few rows, alternating the under and over threads. Next, repeat Step 4, this time weaving a block of blue yarn, a row of gold ribbon and then a block of pink yarn.

06 To create the plaited soumak at the top of the weaving, cut three or four lengths of red yarn approximately 60cm (23¾") long. Using all the lengths held together, pass the yarn over the first and second warp threads and then loop it down around the second thread. Repeat this across the weaving. Do this again along the same row but in the opposite direction and secure the yarn at the ends. Weave another block of cream yarn to secure the soumak.

07 To remove the weaving from the loom you need to secure the bottom of the weave. To do this, cut a piece of yarn and tie a knot on each of the warp threads.
08 Unhook the top of the weaving from the loom and gently pass the wooden dowel through the loops. Attach a piece of yarn onto each end of dowel to create a hanging loop. Finally, trim the tassels into a diagonal shape at the bottom to finish the wall hanging.
